

MATT NABLE

'Grub is an unlikable hero but in the hands of former footballer, first-time screenwriter and star MATT NABLE, there's an earthy honesty to the guy.'

Margaret Pomeranz – At the Movies

'Nable, as actor and writer, walks a fine line with Grub to make him both a true believing hero and a self-pitying thug in need of a check up from the neck up.'

Michael Adams – The Movie Show

It would seem that Matt Nable has literally just burst on to the scene as an extremely talented actor and screenwriter but in fact he has been writing for over ten years on different projects, freelancing and developing 'The Final Winter', his first screenplay which received critical acclaim at major film festivals in Australia and has been distributed by Paramount Pictures, earning him a nomination as Best Australian New Comer in the 2008 Movie Extra FilmInk Awards.

Matt has just landed the lead role of 'Melville Atkinson' in the exciting Spike TV 2 hour US MOW/backdoor pilot called S.I.S. written and directed by John Herzfeld.

His debut novel is due out next year.
